FOR AN RFC EVENT

There've been some changes within The Ron Fletcher Company®. Better for Kyria and Pat — better for me — and, in the long haul, better for our Teachers and Students. I see these changes as being especially beneficial for our Facilitators and Disseminators, and to promise more opportunities for the newcomers to The Ron Fletcher Program of Study®.

Happily, I am again 100% Creative and Artistic Director of the show and I am pleased to report that Kyria Sabin is now the sole owner of the RFC and Director of the Program of Study. Pat Guyton will be developing her own program and seeing to the growth of her handsome new studio in Boulder.

I have total confidence in Kyria as a Fletcher Teacher and Disseminator, as well as in her business sense and leadership skills. I'm certain you too will find her guidance invaluable in your growth as students and teachers — especially as you begin to explore the possibility of starting Fletcher studios and programs of your own.

There's a sense of achievement to all of this, a fine feeling, when I look about the studio and realize how many of our students have become so proficient at the work — and so knowing of the ABCs and beyond — that I have at hand from two to twelve people who can become demonstrators and/or assistants at the crook of a finger. Good stuff, that, and I appreciate them all and their devotion to the work. I look forward to having Disseminator Teaching Studios in many places so the owners can operate their own Programs, including the Program of Study, in their home studios.

I close with a quote from one of my brilliant teachers who was Japanese and spoke very little English:

"AND SO TO UP"

*My best wishes sincerely,
Ron*
